

Syrup of Figs
ONE ENJOYS
the method and results when of Figs is taken: it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and yet promptly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual dyspepsia. Syrup of Figs is the remedy of its kind over producing the most perfect and solution of the stomach, prompt in action and truly beneficial in its results, prepared only from the most pure and agreeable substances, many excellent qualities combined in it and have made it the most popular remedy known.
Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c bottles for all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who not have it on hand will provide it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept

It's a pity, she said, with a compassionate sigh, as she was whisked down to the station, "that poor Mr.

Charley has a nice wife and home like Charley!" Which reference evoked the fact that Mrs. Morton possessed a proper appreciation of her charming self.

The curtain had just risen, when a lady entered the theatre, and was interested in the seat adjoining that of Mr.

Morton.

"Why, Edna?"

"My dear Edna!"

Though several years older than Edna,

Millie Joyce had been her favorite friend. But it was a long time before Edna's wedding Millie Joyce had received a summons to the bedside of a sick brother in Dakota, and had only recently returned. So very pleasant, indeed, both ladies found the meeting.

It was just speaking to an old friend of Charley's," said Mrs. Morton believing the acts. "I'm not sure that you know him. His name is Romeo."

Millie's rather faded face flushed brilliantly.

"David Romeo?"

"Yes."

"I met him at Waukegan five years ago," she said, a trifle nervously, Mrs.

Morton imagined.

"A casual acquaintance?"

"Well, not! I was in a hurry of conscience. We were engaged for three months."

"You were?" Interestingly. "What happened?"

"Oh, he grew jealous, and—there's the story!"

Very little indeed did Mrs. Morton hear of the last act—diplomatically to say the least—of her friend.

"Can't you?" she asked Millie, as they passed out of the theatre, to-45 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK, 24 December, 1889.

TO OUR AGENTS:
 Gentlemen:—By the recent conflagrations at LYNN and BOSTON, I estimate the aggregate loss of this company at $275,000.
 Acting with the promptitude which has been a prominent feature in the practice of this company since its entry into the United States 41 years ago, it is likely that the entire sum named will be disbursed within the next fortnight. Already some losses have been adjusted and settled. The cash held on deposit at this date in New York City alone is $436,000.
 The present seems a favorable opportunity to once more place before your clients the merits of this company.
 Long ago we demonstrated our ability to satisfy (and, as we believe liberally) claimants surely tried in calamities like that at CHICAGO in 1871 and BOSTON in 1872; and now, whilst the losses sustained by our Company are comparatively insignificant, your clients may well, in view of possibilities so clearly brought to light to their attention by the recent conflagrations, inquire anew as to our resources and reputation. Yours very truly, HENRY W. EATON, Resident Manager.

Since date of above circular, many of the claims at LYNN and BOSTON have been settled. In accordance with the inviolable practice of the Company, all losses are paid as soon as adjusted WITHOUT DISCOUNT.
 Fire Losses paid in the U. S. exceed $16,000,000.

What is a Gentleman?

It is not one who knows instinctively what he should do.

Speaking no word that could injure or pain.

Spreading no scandal, and damping no soul.

One who knows how to put each at his ease.

Striving, successfully always to please.

One who can tell by a glance at your cheek

When he is best and when he should speak.

What is a gentleman? It is not one who is Honestly making the broad his own.

Walking in uprightness, fearing the God, Leaving no stain on the path he has trod.

Caring not whether his coat may be old.

Pricing sincerity far above gold.

Reckling not whether his hand may be hard—

Scratching it boldly to grasp its reward?

What is a gentleman? Say, is it him

Who is a free tree to let his words be Shady enough to conceal what he had?

Seek out the man who has God for his guide.

Nothing to tremble at, nothing to hide.

He is a noble, or he is in trade.

He is the gentleman Nature has made.

Some Health Records of New Country.

In many families in New England are found members to whom the frequent changes of climate in the winter and the water and spring, and the raw chilly east wind of March and April prove no trying to physicians and friends and the disease arising from them might know some place where their patients might escape the danger of the climate and renew their strength. And it is the purpose of this article and others, if time permits, to open some that have come under my personal knowledge. First, as one quite easily reached the city of Asheville, N. C., about 80 miles from Boston, occupying thirty-two hours travel in reaching it.

Leaving Boston at 9 a. m. today, you may be in Asheville tomorrow afternoon at 4.30.

The travel is over the Piedmont Line to Sally-hay, N. C., thence over S. W. R. R. to your destination. The scenery from Sally-hay cannot be surpassed this side of the "Rockies". The city is built on a plateau 230 feet above sea level, at the junction of the Swannanoa and French Broad rivers.

The country is quite hilly, affording the finest views. The drainage system is perfect, for which they have expended $100,000 and that where the natural slopes give the facilities for drainage. While the climate is cool, so that in summer the temperature is rarely above 85 degrees, yet in winter the thermometer has had two times reached zero. Material is known

They have an average of six sunny days out of the seven during the winter which is the driest season. The humidity of the atmosphere is that of the United States an-the Rocky mountains. The patient experiences no more lassitude there than in New England, with even the evening seemingly no other change of day. If East Weymouth Notes.

There was a quiet wedding at the residence of the late G. W. Pay M. D., on Broad street Tuesday afternoon. It being the marriage of E. Louise Pay to Albert Hamphrey 24, son of Clinton C. Hamphrey of Boston, Rev. William A. Deane, minister of this place, performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family friends. The newly wedded couple left on the 4.20 train for Boston where they will take up their residence, at 21 Havata street. Many handsome and costly presents were bestowed upon them by their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hamphrey will be at home after Jan. 28.

A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Raymond (now Pattillo) gathered at their residence on School street last evening, and gave them a reception. There was vocal music by Misses Mabel French,

Edith Dean, Mr. A. W. Gardner, Putnam

W. Swelling, Henry D. Raymond and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, plans made by Miss Mabel French and Mrs. Fred Bosworth, next general singing by the guests. A fine concert followed the festive evening. Some of the presents received, which were presented by citizens

Southern, were an easy chair, white rocker, center table, parlor table, lamp, 12 doz. silver knives, clock.

The family of Mr. George A. Dalley have been afflicted by the loss of their three-year-old daughter, Miss Ada, who died Thursday of last week, after a few weeks' illness.

She was born on the 15th of March, 1890, aged 3 years, 21 days. She was a remarkably bright and forward child for one of her age. Her family are deeply sympathized with in their bereavement. The funeral will be held from their residence on Commercial street, Sunday, at 2 p. m., under the direction of Mr. Henry H. Raymond, at 100 Commercial street, Rev. A. A.

Kiddler officiating and appropriate music was furnished by a sextette of little girls under the direction of Mrs. Henry H. Raymond, as follows: Misses Jennie Hildreth, Jennie Hildreth, Clara Hildreth, Alice Hildreth, Mabel Hildreth, Ada Hildreth, a crossed insect "Minnie" from Mr. and Mrs.

Charles T. Bailey and a willow bearing the name "Alice" from the parents. The remains were interred in the East Weymouth cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Dalley express their appreciation of the sympathy of all those kind friends who in any manner assisted them in their hour of bereavement.

Some few weeks ago Officers Gurey and rathler called the premises of Benjamin

P. Lathrop, on Commercial street, and saw a quantity of beer. Mr. Lathrop was also with a warrant charging him with keeping a liquor nuisance. When the case came before the district court, Mr. Lathrop pleaded that he had not knowingly violated the law. Shortly after, another warrant was served upon Mr. Lathrop, charging him with keeping a club room without license.

This case is to come before Judge Hildreth Saturday. Meanwhile Mr. Lathrop's friends drew up a petition, setting forth that as he had already been discharged on the liquor nuisance warrant and believing that he had not knowingly done wrong, they think that they have been wronged, and are petitioning for his release. This petition was signed by several of his neighbors, who have been immediately asked the signatures.
